A sensational week in STEM!

Dream car encouragement awards

This week we found out that we had not one, not two, but three Bilby students receive encouragement awards for their submissions to the Toyota Dream Car STEM competition!

To meet the criteria for this national competition, students had to design a car with features that would assist them in their dream job.

Rubie-Rose, Brooklyn and Bryce received fabulous prize packs for their efforts and we are very proud of their achievement!

Echidnas design 3D printed models

This week in their STEM session, Echidna students were honing their skills in creative design and computer literacy. Using our school laptops, they designed small free-standing model characters and, once completed, sent their design to the 3D printer. Each model takes 20-30 minutes to print.

Welcome to Week 6!

Yes, we are half way through the term and it has been fantastic to see our students engaging with their class peers and teachers.

Parent-teacher interviews

Parent-teacher interviews are still occurring throughout this week and next week. If you have not already and would like to speak to your child's teacher, please call the school office on (02) 6033 1606 or use the Class Dojo app to organise your parent-teacher interview. Please note that interviews will be conducted over the phone as we are not currently permitting parents to enter the school unless absolutely necessary.

The canteen is open again!

Our canteen is open once again and I'll take this opportunity to remind you that orders can be made online via the QuickCliq website – simply create an account, link it to Corowa Public School and start ordering.

Our wonderful canteen coordinator, Narelle, has created a delicious new menu for the winter months. This has been emailed to parents, but can also be accessed via the Skoolbag app, on our Facebook page, website and the back of this newsletter.

Lost property is filling up with jumpers

As the days get cooler and students begin wearing their winter uniform, I imagine that quite a few of you are wondering where your child's jumper is. Spoiler alert: It's probably in the lost property box.

Unfortunately, it is difficult to return lost items when they aren't labelled. Please ensure that all items of your child's uniform are clearly labelled – this goes for drink bottles and pencil cases too. We also encourage parents to remind students that if they take their jumper off at school, pop it straight in their bags.

Kindergarten focus on literacy

How lucky are our Kindergarten students to have two wonderful teachers devoted to their education! Mr Shelley and Mrs Haigh are working together to teach our Kindergarten class and this week have been focusing on literacy. Students have been very dedicated to their work and are making fantastic improvements.

Students continue to make beds in local bedroom-cleaning trend.

The bed-making trend that took Corowa by storm last week has continued. Local principal, Mrs Baily, is keeping her plans under wraps, but seems to be planning some kind of surprise for school students.

This reporter can confirm that Mrs Baily is still requesting that students make their beds every day and send a photo to the school of their great work.

With very little other information currently available, the mystery continues.

More news to follow as the story develops.

Kangaroos work together in maths

Kangaroo students worked together in their maths session on Tuesday, spending their time learning about decimals. They also played fun maths games through the Matific program on our school ipads.

New uniforms in STEM class

Stage 1 and Kindergarten have made some stylish new uniforms from newspaper in their STEM sessions this week!

Quokkas go into orbit

Quokka students developed their computer literacy skills in their library session this week by using Corowa Public School's Orbit website to manage their learning. Through the Orbit landing page, students can access activities and the Premier's Reading Challenge website, find out how many books they have borrowed and discover a whole range of useful learning tools.

Sugar Gliders practice directional language

The Sugar Glider class worked together in their Math session on Thursday to improve their directional language skills.

Students began by drawing a basic map and then wrote instructions on how to get from one end to the other. Fun ensued when they took in turns traversing each other's maps.

This week at ASC it's been all things winter.
We started by using iron beads to make snowflakes as part of our winter-themed window display. We have been creative, making snowmen using socks & foam balls - students did a fantastic job! We had snow cones for afternoon tea, as well as melted snowmen biscuits. We also had a game of rollie pollie down the grassy hill. At before school care Ciara made a star pillow using felt & stuffing, showing all her crafty skills.

Our Winter holiday programs are open for bookings. The theme is SPACE EXPLORERS; with exciting activities like make your own star
projector and build & race a billy cart.

Plus, lots more.

Bookings can be made via Fully Booked at
